WEEK 1

One Million Prompters — start here

Official AI literacy certification · 4 modules · ~4 hrs · Dubai Future Foundation

One Million Prompters

FREE CERTIFIED COURSE · 4 MODULES · ~4 HOURS

Four one-hour modules covering generative AI basics, how to write effective prompts, AI productivity tools, and creative AI applications. Each module ends with a short test. You get a certificate upon completion. This is your formal entry point — every other week in this roadmap builds on the vocabulary and confidence you build here.

Do this before anything else. It frames every tool you'll use later and gives you a language for talking about AI with credibility.

COURSE dub.ai/en/omp — Start the free certification

⚡ PRACTICAL LAB — WEEK 1

Your first AI prompt session

~1 HOUR · TOOLS: CLAUDE.AI OR CHATGPT · NO SIGNUP COST

- 1 Open Claude.ai or ChatGPT. Write a prompt asking it to explain your current job or business in simpler terms — see how it responds.
- 2 Ask it to write a short professional bio for you. Edit the output to sound like you. This is the core vibe-coding skill: prompt → read → correct → ship.
- 3 Ask it three business questions you've genuinely wondered about. Notice where it's confident versus vague — this is how you start calibrating trust.

How AI actually works — for non-technical people

Understand the tool before you depend on it for business decisions

AI for Everyone — Andrew Ng

FREE TO AUDIT · ~6 HRS · COURSERA / DEEPLARNING.AI

The most respected non-technical AI course available. Andrew Ng (co-founder of Coursera, ex-Google Brain) explains what AI can and can't do, how to spot opportunities in your own business, and how to build an AI strategy. Zero coding, zero math. Built specifically for business people and managers.

COURSE coursera.org/learn/ai-for-everyone — Audit free

Elements of AI — University of Helsinki

FREE · SELF-PACED · CERTIFICATE · 2M+ STUDENTS WORLDWIDE

Used by governments across the EU to train citizens on AI. No math or coding. Covers what AI is, how it learns, and its real impact on business and society — structured as short, readable chapters with exercises you can do in a browser.

COURSE elementsofai.com — Start free course

What you actually need from code

~5 HRS TOTAL · MIX OF FREE RESOURCES

You are not becoming a developer. You need to recognise what HTML tags look like, understand roughly what a function does, and know what "API call" means — enough to describe what you want to an AI tool and verify what it gives back. That's the entire skill needed here. Watch the first 90 minutes of each video below; you do not need to finish them.

PRACTICAL LAB — WEEK 3

Build your first real AI product — a personal landing page

~2 HRS · TOOLS: BOLT.NEW · ZERO SETUP · FREE

- 1 Go to bolt.new. Type: "Build me a clean, modern personal landing page. My name is [your name]. I help [what you do]. Dark background, blue accents. Include a short bio, 3 services I offer, and a contact button."
- 2 Read what it generates. Find one thing wrong or that you want changed. Tell it specifically: "Change the heading font to be larger" or "Remove the pricing section."
- 3 Iterate 3–5 times until it looks like something you'd actually share. This single session teaches you more about vibe coding than 3 hours of tutorials.
- 4 Download the HTML file. You now have a real deliverable you built without writing a single line of code.

Build a 30-day AI content calendar for a real business

~2 HRS · TOOLS: CLAUDE OR CHATGPT + CANVA (FREE TIER)

- 1 Pick a real business — yours, a friend's, or a made-up one. Prompt Claude: "Create a 30-day Instagram content calendar for [business type]. Include post topic, caption hook, and hashtags for each day. Mix educational, promotional, and community posts."
- 2 Take 5 of the captions it generates and open Canva (free). Use AI-generated text from Claude and a free Canva template to produce 5 ready-to-post graphics.
- 3 Save the calendar as a PDF. This is now a real deliverable you can sell as an "AI Content Package" gig on Fiverr.

This is not a homework week. This is a shipping week.

What you should have built by now

CHECKLIST — IF ANY ARE MISSING, BUILD THEM THIS WEEK

- ✦ A personal landing page (Lab 2) — your online presence
- ✦ A 30-day content calendar product (Lab 3) — sellable on Fiverr
- ✦ At least one working n8n automation (Lab 4) — your automation portfolio
- ✦ 3 active Fiverr gigs (Lab 5) — your service income channel
- ✦ 1 digital product on Gumroad (Lab 6) — your passive income channel
- ✦ 2–3 professional certifications — One Million Prompts, Elements of AI, Kelley / Google

⚡ FINAL LAB — WEEK 14

Offer your AI automation service to one real business — for free

GOAL: YOUR FIRST REAL CLIENT AND TESTIMONIAL

- 1 Identify one local business, restaurant, salon, or small brand that has no AI workflow. Reach out — by email, DM, or in person. Offer to set up one free automation for them using n8n (e.g., auto-reply to WhatsApp enquiries, or weekly social post scheduling).
- 2 Do the work. It should take you 2–3 hours maximum using what you learned in Weeks 6–7. Use Claude to write the prompts inside the workflow.
- 3 Ask for a written testimonial or a short video review. This becomes your first real social proof — more valuable than any course certificate.
- 4 Charge the second client. $150–$500 for a basic automation setup is a normal market rate in 2025–2026. You now have a business.

END STATE — WEEK 14

You have real AI skills, multiple certifications, active income channels (Fiverr + Gumroad), your first client, and the ability to keep learning as AI evolves — because you understand the fundamentals, not just the tools.
